This is where the type will go. Right now, the type is Myriad Pro Semibold, 11 on 12. It should also have a distinct way of showing the links: <http://coolcat.com> and an effective way of a headline treatment that doesn't compete with the text in the images.

HELP SAVE THE DRIVE-THRU KITTY

REPORTED BY:

FOUND AT:
<http://catsuponmyfries.com>

WHAT WE KNOW:
So, this furry little dude was first seen on the Internets back in March, 2011, when the then four month old kitten was photo-shopped into a not-so-Happy-Meal. It's been a fast track thru fast food hell ever since.

From what we can tell, the cutie we'll call MacDonaldo, cuz of his cute Scottish collar, lives somewhere between Boulder and Colorado Springs. How do we know that? Studies have shown Coloradoans have the highest rate of four exclamation point (over)use and yes, people do study such things.

If you have any idea who this cutie "belongs" to, click the SAVE ME button and help him redeem what little self respect he has left. If you're the owner of MacDonaldo (and we can only imagine what twisted name you've punished him with), shame on you. And isn't it time you learned about healthy eating? Or are you just too lazy to lose that extra 120 pounds you're driving around western Colorado?

This is where the type for the caption will go. Right now, the type is Myriad Pro Semibold, 11 on 12. It should stand out from the text for the rest of the story and that's why it is this cool shade of green.
